

The Crisis in Education

February 19, Long Room,
Oxford Town Hall at 7.30pm.

A public meeting on an education system falling apart – schools on the brink of collapse as they cope with cuts and privatisation (academies), nurseries closing, and universities and colleges facing bankruptcy.

Speakers: Richard Pring, former president of the Socialist Educational Association, Alasdair Smith, national secretary of the Anti-Academies Alliance, Sarah Carter, National Education Union branch secretary, and Labour county councillor Damian Haywood, on special educational needs in Oxfordshire.

For more information email pete.cann@hotmail.co.uk

